

For 25 years, Franciscans International has been building bridges between international policy makers and the world's poor and vulnerable. We work with the global community of nearly 700,000 Franciscan Friars, Sisters and Secular Franciscans to provide the tools necessary to represent and defend the rights of those they serve. □□As St. Francis once addressed the social leaders of his time, so today we engage world leaders and decision makers for the work of justice, peace, care of creation, and the promotion of human rights.

Across the globe, the Franciscan family works selflessly and tirelessly to help those most in need. Franciscans International's offices in Geneva, New York and Bangkok support, train and empower our Franciscan brothers and sisters. Our formation seminars, programs and publications on issues such as HIV and AIDS, human trafficking, poverty eradication, the environment and peace building are possible because of your generosity.

Franciscans International has, since its inception, been supported by the generous donations of Franciscan communities and individuals. We invite the wider community also to support us.
